John A. Burns

John A. Burns, an aged and highly respected citizen of Napier Township, died at his home near Schellsburg on Saturday, March 13, at 10:30 a. m., aged 81 years, nine months and 22 days. He was born near Schellsburg and spent his long life on a farm in Napier Township, with the exception of a short time spent in Iowa in his early manhood.

He found a most agreeable helpmeet and companion in Miss Rebecca Rock. To this union were born an interesting family of children, as follows: Mrs. M. Deremer and Mrs. R. Mooney, of Ohio; Mrs. M. M. White, of Ohio; Misses Columbia, Mame L. and Ida Burns, of Schellsburg, and Harry of Springhope. The hospitalities shown and extended by the Burns family to their friends was genuine and sincere. Mrs. Burns preceded her husband to the spirit world by 11 years.

Deceased was a man with an iron constitution and with firm convictions; always young in spirit, this helped to keep him cheerful. His last illness was of several months' duration and he bore it bravely, during which time he was nursed with all tenderness by his devoted children.

By the death of John A. Burns, Napier Township loses one of its best citizens. His was a strong personality; independent, fearless, determined, he was also gentle, lovable and amiable. Pure in thought, true in friendship, lofty in purpose, he was honest and truthful in all his transactions. He was a great reader and could retain what he read, and so was a good conversationalist. He possessed an historical mind and was an ardent admirer of the great Napoleon and Stonewall Jackson. On the history of wars he could put many a college graduate in the shade.

Home was his forte. Here he entertained his friends; here he welcomed his children after going out into the world for themselves; therefore, they feel their loss all the more. To them we tender our deepest sympathy in their great sorrow. We shall cherish his memory as that of a true and loyal friend. Peace to his ashes. D. G. H.

MESSAGE AND BILL

Communication From President Taft to Special Session of Congress on the Tariff.

To the Senate and House of Representatives:

I have convened the Congress in this extra session in order to enable it to give immediate consideration to the revision of the Dingley tariff act. Conditions affecting production, manufacture and business generally have so changed in the last twelve years as to require a readjustment and revision of the import duties imposed by that act. More than this, the present tariff act, with the other sources of government revenue, does not furnish income enough to pay the authorized expenditures. By July 1 next the excess of expenses over receipts for the current fiscal year will equal $100,000,000.

The successful party in the late election is pledged to a revision of the tariff. The country and the business community especially, expect it. The prospect of a change in the rates of import duties always causes a suspension or halt in business because of the uncertainty as to the changes to be made and their effect. It is therefore of the highest importance that the new bill should be agreed upon and passed with as much speed as possible consistent with its due and thorough consideration. For these reasons, I have deemed the present to be an extraordinary occasion, within the meaning of the Constitution, justifying and requiring the calling of an extra session.

In my inaugural address I stated in a summary way the principles upon which, in my judgment, the revision of the tariff should proceed, and indicated at least one new source of revenue that might be properly resorted to in order to avoid a future deficit. It is not necessary for me to repeat what I then said.

I venture to suggest that the vital business interests of the country require that the attention of Congress in this session be chiefly devoted to the consideration of the new tariff bill, and that the less time given to other subjects of legislation in this session, the better for the country.

WILLIAM H. TAFT.
The White House, March 16, 1909.

"The prospects for starting the construction work on the proposed Altoona, Hollidaysburg and Bedford Springs Electric Railway within the next few weeks become brighter every day," says the Altoona Times of March 18. "An underwriting syndicate is being formed by local business men interested in the interurban line, assisted by Mr. Carr, representing the New York capitalists who will build the road for the purpose of selling one-third of the proposed bond issue, in accordance with an agreement made between Frederick W. Patterson, representing local men, and the Ellis-Evans Company of New York."

"Mr. Patterson stated that the success of the road was assured and that time alone would prove to the people interested that their work had not been without result. He stated that there had been no difficulty in underwriting one-third of the cost of the road, which will be vouched for by local men, as already about $400,000 had been underwritten."

"In forming the syndicate, it is the purpose of Mr. Patterson to give to all those identifying themselves with the road in Altoona, Roaring Spring, Martinsburg, Everett, Bedford and other points to or through which the line will run an opportunity to become members of the syndicate."

UPSET STOMACH

Ends Five Minutes After Taking
Some Diapepsin

EAT YOUR FAVORITE FOODS

Stops Fermentation and Cures All Stomach Trouble Before You Realize it.

Take your sour stomach—or may be you call it indigestion, Dyspepsia, Gastritis or Catarrh of the Stomach; it doesn't matter—take your stomach trouble right with you to your Pharmacist and ask him to open a 50-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin and let you eat one 22-grain Triangule and see if within five minutes there is left any trace of your stomach misery.

The correct name for your trouble is Food Fermentation—food souring; the Digestive organs become weak; there is lack of gastric juice; your food is only half digested, and you become affected with loss of appetite, pressure and fullness after eating, vomiting, nausea, heartburn, griping in bowels, tenderness in the pit of stomach, bad taste in mouth, constipation, pain in limbs, sleeplessness, belching of gas, biliousness, sick headache, nervousness, dizziness and many other similar symptoms.

If your appetite is fickle, and nothing tempts you, or you belch gas or if you feel bloated after eating, or your food lies like a lump of lead on your stomach, you can make up your mind that at the bottom of all this there is but one cause—fermentation of undigested food.

Prove to yourself, after your next meal, that your stomach is as good as any; that there is nothing really wrong. Stop this fermentation and begin eating what you want without fear of discomfort or misery.

Almost instant relief is waiting for you. It is merely a matter of how soon you take a little Diapepsin.

A Religious Author's Statement

Rev. Joseph H. Fesperman, Salisbury, N. C., who is the author of several books, writes: "For several years I was afflicted with kidney trouble and last winter I was suddenly stricken with a severe pain in my kidneys and was confined to bed eight days unable to get up without assistance. My urine contained a thick, white sediment and I passed same frequently day and night. I commenced taking Foley's Kidney Remedy, and the pain gradually abated and finally ceased and my urine became normal. I cheerfully recommend Foley's Kidney Remedy." Ed. D. Heckerman.

Violet for Spring

Indications point to a soft, light violet color as the dominant one for spring. One sees it on the new embroideries, in the flowered tulles and mousselines, in the bordered dimities, and in the soft silks and plumes.

The French dressmakers say that the dull brick tone, which we called Egyptian red all winter, will be used as the ultra color. The new dye in it is a little off the shade that we have now.

This is the most dangerous time of the year to catch cold, and it is the hardest time to cure it. If you should take a cold, a few doses of Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup will act very promptly. Its laxative principle cures the cold by driving it from the system by a gentle but natural action of the bowels. Children especially like Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup, as it tastes so good, nearly like maple sugar. It is sold by all druggists.

HOUSEHOLD NOTES

When grease has been spilled on the stove it can be quickly removed by washing with vinegar diluted with a little water. Apply with a black woolen cloth.

Vaseline stains are very hard to remove. Before washing they should be soaked in kerosene.

By adding one tablespoonful of butter or a half-cup of cream to the batter pancakes can be baked without greasing the griddle.

Melted butter is a very good substitute for olive oil in salad dressing. Many prefer the butter to oil.

If you scorch a garment when ironing it rub a lump of dry starch on the mark, then sponge it off. Repeat till the yellow disappears.

A good rule to remember about flour is that for pastry it cannot be too cold, while for cake and especially for bread, it should be slightly warm.

Add a teaspoonful of salt and a teaspoonful of fresh lard to boiled starch and it will prevent its ever sticking to flatirons.

A good way to clean mica on a stove, that has become blackened with smoke, is to wash it with vinegar. If the black does not come off at once, let it soak a little while.

Discolored ivory knife handles should be cleaned with lemon juice and salt. Cut a lemon in half, dip it in salt and with it rub the ivory. Wash off immediately with warm water and wipe dry.

Grainel woodwork should be washed with weak tea.

Lamp wicks, if boiled in vinegar and thoroughly dried before using, will not smell bad when burning.

Salt thrown into the oven immediately after anything has been burned in it will make the objectionable odor less disagreeable.

DON'T EXPERIMENT

You Will Make No Mistake if You Follow This Advice.

Never neglect your kidneys. If you have pain in the back, urinary disorders, dizziness and nervousness, it's time to act and no time to experiment. These are all symptoms of kidney trouble, and you should seek a remedy which is known to cure the kidneys.

Doan's Kidney Pills is the remedy to use. No need to experiment. It has cured many stubborn cases in this vicinity.

Can Bedford residents demand further proof than that contained in the following testimonial?

Mrs. E. E. Adams, Clarence St., Hyndman, Pa., says: "I suffered from kidney diseases and lumbago and although I used many medicines, I obtained only temporary relief. There were severe pains in my back, at times extending to my shoulders and head and I suffered from chills and dizzy spells. When Doan's Kidney Pills were recommended to me, I procured a box and it required but a short use to effect a complete cure. I have been in perfect health since and am therefore glad to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills."

POULTRY NOTES

On sunny days let the fowls run out, but at night see they have a good, comfortable roosting place.

High roosts, when one keeps the heavy breeds, are conducive to burnable-foot and leg weakness.

Don't feed altogether of corn, and make the hens work for their feed by scattering the grain for them in deep scratching material. Keep ashes, lime and grit in reach of them all the time.

Give them clover hay shavings; those that possess a feed cutter can prepare the clover for them exactly to the hens' taste.

Warm milk to drink, table scraps, and an occasional meal of meat will all assist towards the good health of the flock, and just as certainly to wait better and stronger hatches from the eggs.

The high price of poultry and eggs, as compared with other farm products, should result in better care of the poultry.

Part of next year's prosperity depends upon the way you keep the barnyard cleaned.

Every farmer could easily raise a good flock of turkeys. The prices paid during the holiday seasons will be satisfactory and amply repay all trouble.

Stops carache in two minutes; toothache or pain of burn or scald in five minutes; hoarseness, one hour; muscleache, two hours; sore throat, twelve hours—Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, monarch over pain.

Rough Skin

The girl whose skin is easily irritated yet who objects to the constant use of creams and lotions may get through the cold months more comfortably if she keeps a box of oatmeal on her washstand.

This should be used instead of soap and in the same way. A handful of it rubbed thoroughly into the skin is a cleanser as well as whitener and keeps the skin soft and smooth.

Cleveland and Children

Callers who undertook to inform him to his face that he had been a great President made him exceedingly miserable (though he did not mind reading about it when they were not around), but if you told him you saw his boy Richard make a good catch playing ball out on the lawn as you came in, his whole face lighted up with a wonderful smile. His attitude toward children was not the smiling condescension which many of the "Olympians" adopt, and which children hate; he treated them with that flattering earnestness which children like. "Some of the other gentlemen here this afternoon left this hat behind them," he would say to his boy. One day these two were seen walking home together in their rain. Richard was holding the umbrella. Rather than let the boy see that he could not hold it high enough the Ex-President walked all the way down Bayard lane with his head and shoulders bent low.

One day on the train from New York he became much concerned over a little girl who seemed to be traveling alone. Finally he had to go and ask her about it. She said it was all right, she was to be met by her father at New Brunswick. But when that station was finally reached the Ex-President, without saying anything to the rest of his party, quietly stole out to the rear door and watched until he saw the child safe in her father's arms; then he returned to the group he had left and went on with the conversation as if nothing had happened.

We say without hesitation that De Witt's Kidney and Bladder Pills are unequalled for weak kidneys, backache, inflammation of the bladder and all urinary disorders. They are antiseptic and act promptly in all cases of weak back, backache, rheumatism and rheumatic pains. Accept no substitute. We sell and recommend them. Sold by all druggists.

USEFUL TO KNOW

A faint scent of violets is imparted to handkerchiefs by adding a small piece of orris root to the water in which they are boiled.

Did you know that your tan shoes can be easily and quickly cleaned by rubbing them over thoroughly with a woolen rag wet with turpentine? First see that all dust is removed from the shoes.

When you have occasion to use plaster of paris, wet it with vinegar instead of water; then it will be like putty, and can be smoothed better, as it will not "set" for half an hour, while plaster wet with water hardens at once.

To take out rusty screws heat a poker red hot and hold it for a few moments to the head of the screw. Then use the proper-sized screwdriver—to fit the slot of the screw—and it will come out quite easily and with very little trouble.

If you haven't the time to exercise regularly, Doan's Regulents will prevent constipation. They induce a mild, easy, healthful action of the bowels without griping. Ask your druggist for them. 25c.

Red Light Visible Far

Red lights have been proved to be visible to a greater distance than green. In recent tests on a clear, dark night, a red light of one candle power was clearly discernible at one mile; one of three candle power at two miles; ten candle power, through a binocular, at four miles, and thirty-three candle power at five miles. On an exceptionally clear night a white light of 3.2 candle power could be distinguished at three miles; 17.2 candle power at five miles.

WHEEZER OR SNEEZER?

Have You Heard of Hyomei for Catarrh, Asthma and Hay Fever?

If you wheeze or sneeze, hawk or spit, snuffle or blow, something is the matter with the membrane of your respiratory tract, and you need Hyomei.

And you need Hyomei because it will cure you of any catarrhal or inflammatory condition that exists.

It isn't a stomach medicine, or spray, or douche, but a very pleasant, healing, antiseptic balsam, from the eucalyptus forests of Australia. You breathe this balsamic air through a small, hard rubber inhaler, and it reaches every nook, corner and crevice of the membrane, and promptly kills the catarrh germs.

F. W. Jordan will sell you a complete Hyomei (pronounced High-ome) outfit for $1, on the money-back plan.

"The use of Hyomei cured Mr. Cutler of catarrh in 1904. He has strongly endorsed the use of Hyomei in many instances, and we are glad to go on record regarding this marvelous catarrh cure, and endorse it."—Mrs. A. Cutler, 201 Post Ave., Battle Creek, Mich.

HOW TO MIX IT

Directions to Prepare a Simple Home Mixture

THE DOSE TO TAKE

Tells You How to Overcome Rheumatism With Simple Recipe, Which is Easily Mixed.

A well-known authority on Rheumatism gives the following valuable, though simple and harmless, prescription, which any one can easily prepare at home:

Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces.

Mix by shaking well in a bottle, and take a teaspoonful after each meal and at bedtime.

He states that the ingredients can be obtained from any good prescription pharmacy at small cost, and, being of vegetable extraction, are harmless to take.

This pleasant mixture, if taken regularly for a few days, is said to overcome almost any case of Rheumatism. The pain and swelling, if any, diminishes with each dose, until permanent results are obtained, and without injuring the stomach. While there are many so-called Rheumatism remedies, patent medicines, etc., some of which do give relief, few really give permanent results, and the above will, no doubt, be greatly appreciated by many sufferers here at this time.

Inquiry at the drug stores of this neighborhood elicits the information that these drugs are harmless and can be bought separately, or the druggists here will mix the prescription for our readers if asked to.

Just What You Have Been Wishing For

The greatest American play, by the greatest American playwright, is "The Witching Hour," by Augustus Thomas. It has been novelized by the author himself, and the story is even better than the play. The Pittsburgh Dispatch has secured from Harper Brothers of New York exclusive serial rights, and the tale will begin Sunday, March 21. It is a most fascinating story of hypnotism, telepathy, love, mystery and crime. Don't miss the start. "The Witching Hour," beginning Sunday, March 21, in The Pittsburgh Dispatch.

DIRTY WATCHES

The Reason is Often to be Found in the Watch Pocket.

"Why do watches get dirty?" said the patron. "You'll find the answer in your watch pocket. Turn it out."

The patron turned out his watch pocket, sheepishly bringing forth a pinch of mud colored dust, some lint and a small ball of black fluff.

"There's the reason," said the jeweler. "Watches get dirty because the pockets they are carried in are never clean. A watch pocket, my dear sir, should be cleaned out regularly once a week. Observe that rule and your watch's works will not get clogged up again."

"Another and seasonable rule is never to lay your watch down on stone or marble. The cold deranges the delicate works."

"Never lay your watch down, in fact, anywhere. Hang it up on a hook vertically in the same position it occupies when in your pocket. Watches are made to lie, or, rather, stand, in that position only."

"Wind your watch in the morning, never at night."—New York Press.

GOOD ROAD POINTERS

Suggestions to Supervisors on the Care of Highways.

SIMPLE BUT USEFUL DON'TS.

Expert Tells How to Keep a Road in Good Condition and Avoid Trouble. Don't Be Satisfied, He Says, With Anything but the Best.

Excellent advice on the care and construction of roads is contained in the following set of suggestions to road supervisors, which were compiled by Robert A. Meeker, state supervisor of roads in New Jersey:

Don't leave grass and weeds on the shoulders and in the gutters.

Don't dig the mud out of the gutters and throw it upon the road.

Don't leave dirt in piles on the road.

Don't throw grass and weeds upon the road surface.

Don't dump stone or gravel on an old road without first preparing the surface to receive it, because you thereby cause willful waste and woeful want.

Don't place new material on the road without leveling and shaping it so that the grade and cross section of the road will be unchanged.

Don't expect travel to spread and roll the new material. One-half of the money spent is wasted by this method.

Don't put new material on an old hard road surface before first picking or loosening the old covering. It is good for the quarryman and gravel owner, but bad for the taxpayer and road user.

Don't try to do work without proper tools.

Don't leave your scarifier in the shed.

Don't forget to use your sprinkling wagon.

Don't let your steam roller be idle.

Don't think any old tools are good enough for road work.

Don't use dull picks, broken shovels, dull scraper blades or broken and leaky steam rollers.

Don't waste your rainy days.

Don't let water stand on your road.

Don't try to repair a road in dry weather without a liberal use of water.

A ROAD LEFT TO TAKE CARE OF ITSELF.

Don't allow culverts or pipes to become choked up.

Don't allow the outlets of under-drains to become stopped up.

Don't let water get under a road.

Don't let ruts form.

Don't let the road lose its original cross section.

Don't let the shoulders get higher than the center of the road.

Don't fail to widen your fills at every opportunity. No better place for the mud, grass and weeds taken off the road than on the sides of high embankments.

Don't use guard rails if you can get dirt to widen your road.

Don't bury a stone road under mud.

Don't crown your road so high that no one will travel on the sides.

Don't forget that the entire width of the road is intended for use.

Don't expect a road to take care of itself.

Don't fail to locate all good repair material lying on or near the road.

Don't wait until you are ready to go to work before you procure the necessary materials for repair.

Don't be constantly changing your road gang.

Don't let experienced men go simply to give some one a job.

Don't lose sight of the fact that road repairing is a trade and must be learned.

Don't guess at the amount of material required. Measure and know.

Don't depend on some one else to tell you what the condition of your roads is.

Don't fail to visit every road under your care at least once a week.

Don't refuse to try any new material that may be offered unless the same has been proved bad.

Don't think there is nothing more to be learned about road building.

Don't forget that nobody knows it all.

Don't think because you do not hear the comments that your work is not being praised or criticized, as the case may be.

Don't look down on your work.

Don't lose sight of the fact that good roads are one of the greatest factors in the development of any country.

Don't forget that churches and schools cannot thrive without good roads.

Don't be satisfied with anything but the best.

Pennsylvania's New Roads.

According to the report of the state highway commissioner of Pennsylvania, 325 miles of new roads were built during the past year at a cost of $3,000,000 or more.

A Bold Step.

To overcome the well-grounded and reasonable objections of the more intelligent to the use of secret, medicinal compounds, Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., some time ago, decided to make a bold departure from the usual course pursued by the makers of put-up medicines for domestic use, and so has published broadcast and openly to the whole world, a full and complete list of all the ingredients entering into the composition of his widely celebrated medicines. Thus he has taken his numerous patrons and patients into his full confidence. Thus too he has removed his medicines from among secret nostrums of doubtful merits, and made them Remedies of Known Composition.

By this bold step Dr. Pierce has shown that his formulas are of such excellence that he is not afraid to subject them to the fullest scrutiny.

Not only does the wrapper of every bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the famous medicine for weak stomach, liver or biliousness, and all catarrhal diseases wherever located, have printed upon it in plain English, a full and complete list of all the ingredients composing it, but a small book has been compiled from numerous standard medical works, of all the different schools of practice, containing very numerous extracts from the writings of leading practitioners of medicine, endorsing in the strongest possible terms, each and every ingredient contained in Dr. Pierce's medicines. One of these little books will be mailed free to any one sending address on postal card or by letter, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., and requesting the same. From this little book it will be seen that Dr. Pierce's medicines contain no alcohol, narcotic, mineral agents or other poisonous or injurious agents, and that they are made from native medicinal roots of great value also to that some of the most valuable ingredients contained in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for weak, nervous, over-worked, "run-down," nervous and debilitated women, were employed, long years ago, by the Indians for similar ailments affecting their squaws. In fact, one of the most valuable medicinal plants entering into the composition of Dr. Pierce's medicines is known to the Indians as "Saw-weed." Our knowledge of the uses of not a few of our most valuable native medicinal plants was gained from the Indians. As made up by improved and exact processes, the "Favorite Prescription" is a most efficient remedy for regulating all the most important functions of the female system, as prolapsus, anteversion and retroversion, overcoming painful periods, toning up the nerves and bringing about a perfect state of health. Sold by all dealers in medicines.

The Boy in the Awkward Age

"The boy in the awkward age wants nothing systematic," and thoroughness is never so hard or unnatural," says Dr. G. Stanley Hall, in Appleton's. "He wants hints, suggestion in every direction, but nothing must be too long continued or detailed. His mind comes back later inevitably to all that makes a real appeal. His receptivity is at its very apex, and his productivity is at low ebb. Thus he can profit by others' examples vicariously and get experience by proxy better now than ever before or later. He lacks confidence in his own power to achieve. His curiosity is most intense concerning things adults are most reluctant to talk about. He abhors method and system, but is greedy for subject matter, or, as one of them said, 'Any old way that gets there suits me.' There is almost nothing in the whole sphere of mind, life or culture that he does not want to sample. He is a culture vagrant, always making little voyages of discovery, but not sailing far in any direction. He is especially eclectic, orientating and circumnavigating as a fast-growing vine swings round and round to find a proper support. The boy is never so inquisitive, unreliable, troublesome, unpredictable, shifty and shirky. He wants a long tether, but is always getting entangled in it. He is never so uncoercible by direct but never so docile to indirect and tactful control. He is insistently forming new plans and reconstructing old ones. He is uneasy because he is always wanting, though not knowing at all what he wants. He is a victim of caprice and whims galore, often fantastic, often preternaturally and owlishly sage."

Most disfiguring skin eruptions, scrofula, pimples, rashes, etc., are due to impure blood. Burdock Blood Bitters is a cleansing blood tonic. Makes you clear-eyed, clear-brained, clear-skinned.

THE SEWING CIRCLE

Barrel hoops covered with cotton or silk make good coat hangers.

Huck toweling embroidered with mercerized thread makes pretty and substantial covers for bureaus and sideboards.

Glove and veil cases of ecru serim are embroidered and lined with a colored silk. They are also used for handkerchiefs and are very useful.

Splendid little collar and cuff sets can be made with picot-edged lingerie braid inset with finest valenciennes lace insertion and edged with narrow lace ruffles.

A striped mohair dress was made with the waist having horizontal lines, while the skirt was cut on lines with the stripes and finished with narrow panels of horizontal stripes. The waist was outlined with black velvet, as were the conical panels on the skirt.

Secure a small basket with double lids. Line the basket with pretty pieces of silk of any desired colors. On the underside of the lid make fastenings for small scissors, pins, bodkins, stilettoes, etc.

Old cotton sheets make commodious bags for inclosing gowns and coats in the wardrobe, one very large-size sheet being sufficient for two good-sized cases. As slips for pillows over the ticking, an old sheet will cut up into quite a few, and as these will have no practical wear, being merely a protection, will last quite a long time. A similar use is to cover small beds with the better portions.

WHAT IS GOSSIP?

"We are often asked, 'What is gossip?' We answer, in a general way, that it is talking of persons rather than of things. Nothing shows the paucity of ideas more than this talking about the affairs of your neighbors. It is not only malicious people who originate scandal; it is narrow-minded people, ignorant people, stupid people. Persons of culture and intelligence are not so hard run for topics of conversation. They can usually find something to say about art, literature, fashion, or society. The moment people begin to talk of their neighbors—of persons rather than of things, they are apt to degenerate into scandal; for where one speaks of the virtues of an acquaintance, a dozen expatiate on his or her shortcomings. And this brings us to speak of real culture, or what we consider to be such, at least. A cultivated person, in the highest sense of the term, is not merely one who can talk of books, pictures, and other elevated subjects of human interest. To be thoroughly cultivated, the heart, as well as the intellect, should be refined and enlarged. Sometimes we see women who, without education, yet having been born amiable, are never guilty of gossip. Again we see women, not naturally amiable, whom education has taught to talk of things, not of persons. The perfect woman, in this respect, is one who is both amiable and educated. But education does not always elevate people above the regions of gossip. A really bad heart is always malicious. The best advice we can give is the homely old adage, 'Mind your own business.' Very few of us ever know the whole truth about anything concerning a neighbor, and to speak of his, or her conduct, is usually to run the risk of being unjust. Much less should we talk of the motives of others. Very few of us know our own motives, and to venture on discussing a neighbor's motives is always impertinence, and often a real crime.—Godey's.

WOULD-BE CLEVER GIRL

Many a girl thinks it clever to be cutting and sarcastic, and wonders why she is unpopular. She has a gift of mimicry, and thinks it oh, so smart to touch up the weakness of her friends. She is full of openly expressed views that her elders are tottering on the verge of the grave, and calls the girl who has been out two seasons a "back number." She thinks knowledge was born with her, and graspingly refuses to credit others with a share. She believes she is attracting favorable notice by loud talking in public places, and scorns the suggestion that she is making herself conspicuous. She gives advice on every known subject and thinks those who do not take it wanting in common sense. She blazes abroad the little she knows, foolishly thinking it will pass muster as a fine education. She poses as artistic or musical or literary, and bores every one with her textbook opinions. She fancies that to be uncensorious is to be out of date, and makes herself a byword with her backbiting gossip. She considers it clever to be superior to her mother, and never imagines that her hearers are ready to slap her for her silly conceit. She believes that eccentricity in dress is a sign of great originality, and fortifies herself against criticism by the lordly idea that her critics are ignorant. She thinks it smart to defy conventions, partly calling those who would restrain her "old fogies."

Rallying

When you've whispered good-by to the dreams you once had
And turned to the hope of tomorrow,
You'll walk in the ways that are sunny and glad,
Forgetting the valley of sorrow.
When you've lifted the burden you tried to lay down
And answered the call of your duty,
A rainbow will gleam where the skies were a frown
And life will unfold a new beauty.

Social Life Threatens Schools
There is an excess of social life among school children and both parents and teachers are becoming alarmed over the situation. To place a curb on tastes after they have been cultivated is not easy, for discontented boys and girls are uncomfortable inmates of any home. The only remedy lies with the children, and perhaps the good example set by the pupils of high schools may have an influence over others.

There used to be a delightful home life that kept families by their own firesides in the evening and allowed boys and girls to grow up with strength and a healthy appetite for amusement. School children lived simple lives, with a noonday dinner and a plain supper, with early retiring hours and a small amount of social life confined to daylight functions. When invitations were considered the first thought was of school duties, and if the two clashed the invitations were declined.

In many homes there is not an abundance of what is known as home life. Parents have clubs and children make their own plans for the evening. They have clubs of their own, they go to theaters and dancing parties and rob themselves of much-needed sleep. They are not fitted for good work of any kind after a short night's rest, and when these nights are frequent the effect is bound to become more than a menace to health. The weakening of one's moral force is about as serious a calamity as can fall to the lot of either boy or girl.

Sick headache, constipation and biliousness are relieved by Rings Little Liver Pills. They cleanse the system. Do not gripe. Price 25c. Sold by Ed. D. Heckerman.

Why Building Stones Decay

The causes of decay in building stones are various and depend on the physical structure of the stone, its composition and the nature of the surrounding atmosphere. The most destructive agent to which the stone is exposed is rain or a moist atmosphere, and also, in the minor degree, wind, frost and smoke.

Itching piles provoke profanity, but profanity won't cure them. Doan's Ointment cures itching, bleeding or protruding piles after years of standing. At any drug store.

Alcohol not needed

Ayer's Sarsaparilla is not a strong drink. As now made, there is not a drop of alcohol in it. It is a non-alcoholic tonic and alterative. Ask your own doctor about your taking this medicine for thin, impure blood. Follow his advice every time. He knows.

The good life is the one that is great with goodness, enriched with every resource, daily growing, becoming more, enjoying more, and finding such completion in the attempt to awaken dormant lives, to lift lagging lives, and to lead its fellows into the life that is life indeed.

Fire Terms in Japan.

Fires in Japan are so common that this destructive agency has established itself as a national institution, and a whole vocabulary has grown up to express every shade of meaning in matters fiery. The Japanese language has special terms for an incendiary fire, an accidental fire, fires starting from one's own house, a fire caught from next door, a fire which one shares with others, a fire which is burning to an end, the flame of a fire, anything—for instance, a brazier, from which a fire may arise; the side from which to attack a fire in order to extinguish it; a visit of condolence after a fire.

THE MURDER OF PETROSINO

The death of Joseph Petrosino, the head of the Italian branch of the New York detective force, is a calamity. He was a terror to evil doers and was instrumental in bringing to justice many of his countrymen connected with Black Hand.

It is believed that he met his death as the result of a black hand conspiracy, one or more members being detailed to follow him across the water; but whether this is or is not the case we may never know, though it is certain that he was murdered by a representative of the organization against which he worked so vigorously. His death should teach the authorities of all nations the necessity of taking drastic measures to stamp out of existence the organization.

PROSPERITY?

Notices were posted in all departments of the works of the Cambria Steel Company on Wednesday announcing a general cut in wages averaging 10 per cent. The cut is said to affect officials as well as unskilled laborers to the number of 20,000 men, employed in the Johnstown plant, the Lake Superior mines, the Connellsville coke fields and the Huntingdon quarries.

This cut is made, it is said, to enable the Cambria Company to bid against competitors, and it is hoped that it will revive business. Things move in rather mysterious ways to perform the wonder of reviving business—which revival was assured us upon the election of Taft, and, later, upon his being inaugurated.

THE PAYNE TARIFF BILL

If the Payne tariff bill presented to the House of Representatives this week at Washington succeeds in running the gauntlet of debate in both the Senate and House and reaches President Taft in its present form the people of the nation will have much to be thankful for. While the measure in its present form is essentially protective, it nevertheless is a big step in the direction of a revenue tariff. But it has only been presented, not passed; and before it reaches the Chief Executive its wings are likely to be clipped.

The addition to the free list of iron ore from 40 cents a ton, hides from 15 per cent., wood pulp from $1.66 per ton, coke from 20 per cent., and farm machinery from 20 per cent. ought to prove beneficial to the country at large, but it remains to be seen whether these will be on the free list when the bill shall have passed both houses of Congress.

The inheritance tax feature of the new bill will remain in doubt, even should it reach the stage of affixing the President's signature, until the Supreme Court shall have its say, for it will be remembered that the income tax law enacted during Cleveland's administration was declared unconstitutional—after one Justice had changed his mind—mostly on the ground that it was class legislation, and the same argument could be used in reaching a conclusion with regard to an inheritance tax law should it reach that body for the final guess.

LETTER TO GEORGE LING

Bedford, Pa.

Dear Sir: Mrs S C Ashe's house in Yorkville, S C, was painted Devco 21 years ago and hadn't been painted since; it is a handsome house and the paint was in good condition when we were there three years ago.

Do we therefore say that Devco wears 21 years in South Carolina? No; on the sandy coast, where the sun is hot and the flying sand cuts the bark off trees, Devco is the only paint that wears more than one year.

Localities differ; Devco doesn't differ. It is the paint that takes least gallons to cover a job and makes least cost and wears longest; how long depends on sun wind sand etc.

Yours truly

THE ARENA

This column is devoted to the discussion of topics of interest to our readers and the asking and answering of questions. Communications for this column must contain the name of the writer though the article may be otherwise signed.

Mr. Editor:—As one interested in all progressive movements I wish to add my hearty approval of the suggestion made in your paper relative to a bridge for the benefit of citizens living in the west end of Bedford.

Truly, this is a much-needed improvement and is practical as well. Nothing is asked but fair treatment to all taxpayers alike and the question should be viewed by our worthy town council who, it is hoped, will consider the matter in their meetings and act generously. A bridge is a necessity; let us have it, and have it this spring. Tax-payer.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

GALLOWAYS TO THE FRONT.

Breeders of These Desirable Cattle Organize an Association.

The Galloway breeders of several western states have organized the Western Galloway Breeders' association, the object being to increase the demand for this desirable breed of cattle. In addressing the association recently G. E. Clark, its secretary-treasurer, said in part:

"Once you have induced a man to use a good pure bred Galloway sire you have a possible convert to the pure bred cattle business. If he be progressive he is not long in detecting their value, and the most successful breeders of pure bred cattle attain their position only through years of patient endeavor, beginning with one pure bred sire which possibly cost him $100 and looked very much more unreasonable than did $300 or $400 a few years later.

"Right here I wish to make mention as to prices. I have received letters from a few breeders who say that they have to sell their bulls for $40 to $50 per head. A farmer can well afford to pay more money than that for a bull and should be made to do so. Any farmer can well afford to pay $150 for a good bull to use on a herd of common cows and then make a large profit by the investment. But the great mass of farmers are still unconvinced.

"There is not a farmer in this whole country that would even hesitate at $150 for a good work horse simply for the work there is in him. Teams are selling from $300 to $500. Is it not a strange judgment of values that will hesitate at paying that price for an animal that will put many times $150 more selling value into his herd for years to come?"

Importance of Good Roads.

Delaware county, Pa., is furnishing an illustration of the part smooth highways is going to play in general freight traffic in the near future. Thousands of dollars' worth of goods that until recent years were hauled by the railroads are now delivered direct from the stores or from the farms to the cities. Motor wagons are penetrating the farming districts and taking freights from the farmer's door to the city market and bringing back purchases by the same method. In short, good roads will be the leading factor in determining the mooted question of freight rates.

La Reine Corsets

Most women want perfectly fitting, stylish corsets that will wear well and stand up to the very last. La Reine Corsets do just that and a whole lot more that is not readily explained in a few words, but it may be all summed up in the expression that if there is any particular in the matters of fashion, design, materials, finish and all around style in which these goods do not rise superior to any other American corsets similarly priced, we fail to know it and naturally comparisons are the very things we are constantly making. Call and be convinced of their merits.

IN THE LAND OF FLOWERS

Bedford Man Tells of Life in Florida—Reads Home News.

Editor Gazette:—This being the fifth month I have spent in Florida and the Keys I thought perhaps a few words from me might interest some of the Bedford people.

Miami is the most beautiful town I saw on this Southern trip. The foliage is entirely different from any we have in the north, with orange and lemon trees for shade, as well as the many different kinds of palms. The streets are made of white rock, which makes a very pretty street but the sun always shining makes it very hard on the eyes. It is just the same as the sun shining upon the snow in the north.

Miami is the nearest port to Nassau, between which the P. & O. Steamship line runs a regular service during the winter months for the northern tourists. There are no manufacturing or industries of any kind, as it is practically a winter resort.

Leaving Miami for the Florida Keys, and crossing Miami River you strike the Homestead country. Here the timber is mostly of yellow pine, from which turpentine is made. This is also a great fruit-growing and truck-farming district. The land, after leaving the homestead country, is what is known as the Everglades, the home of the Seminole Indians. This tribe is an independent tribe and has no reservation provided for them. They are very peaceable and speak the English language very readily. They maintain themselves by hunting and fishing, and dealing in deer and alligator skins, both of which are very plentiful in the Glades. Near the Glades at what is called Mannatee Creek, is a tank of 100,000 gallons' capacity from which all the fresh water is distributed along the Keys in tank cars.

Leaving the mainland, you enter the Keys. The first is Key Largo, one of the largest in the group, being 32 by 17 miles. This key has about one hundred families living on it who are principally fruit growers.

The second is Tamiar and at this place they have laid out a township during this season which is now open for settlers. The third is called the Plantation key. There are only about 30 people living there, all of whom are truck farmers. This key has a very beautiful ocean front, with high banks and a sandy beach.

Windley's Island is the next key and has about 15 families living there, all being engaged in fruit growing. At this place the railroad has located its rock quarry and crusher for the use of the road beds and piers. Upper Metacomb has about 200 people on it, engaged in the same pursuits. The larger number of residences are built on the ocean side of the key, giving the people a charming view of the Atlantic Ocean and the steamers and schooners which almost daily pass up and down the coast. Islamorada is about the same as the above keys with only a few families living upon it.

Long Key is one about which I can't say too much. This is a lovely little key seven miles long and from one-half to a mile wide. The soil is of a very rich coral formation and white sand. The island is covered with coconut palms, which are continually bearing fruit in all stages of development. Here quite a number of small cottages have been built to form a circle, in the center of which you at night always see a camp fire with many tourists sitting around it. We also have built six quite large buildings, namely: Lodge building with office, dining rooms and kitchen, and four dormitories all of which have been nicely painted, have modern and sanitary conveniences, and are lighted with gas, as well as the pretty grove, and is known as the Long Key Fishing Camp.

To say this is a beautiful spot is but half expressing it. The broad Atlantic stretches eastward, until the fading horizon meets the restless waters of the ocean, and on the west is the broad expanse of the Bay of Florida and Gulf of Mexico, studded with keys varying in size. It is a view which one will long remember. The many neat cottages, painted yellow, nestling beneath the long, waving arms of the coconut fronds, are a most impressive sight. Here the trains going north and south remain 20 minutes for lunch, which is served in the Camp dining room by colored men waiters, under the management of L. P. Schutt of Catskill, N. Y. H. E. Bemis being the general manager of this beautiful Fishing Camp.

At the extreme southern end of this island the great monumental work of Mr. Flagler was built, known as the Long Key Viaduct. This viaduct is built of concrete and reinforced with steel rods. It stands 30 feet above high tide, is 18 feet wide at top, spans 60 feet at centre, and is 2.7 miles long, which gives a lovely view to sit in a car and look out while crossing. The principal amusements here are bathing, boating and fishing. One can go bathing at any hour of the day and any day in the year. This is the greatest place in the world for Spanish mackerel fishing; also tarpon, king, sawfish, jewfish, bantua, amber-jacks, grunts, needle fish, mutton fish, and a hundred and one other kinds.

This place promises to be one of the leading and best paying hotels the Florida East Coast Hotel Company has. We have here at all times all kinds of small fishing boats, as well as sailing boats, for the use of the public, from a two passenger to a 50-passenger boat. H. M. Wing, our Bedford Springs Assistant Manager, was one of the first visitors at this place and he was one of the party of three that made the largest catch of the season.

Grassy Key is another key among the great group which was a stranger to civilization, to a great extent, until this railroad extension was built. The East Coast Railway Company has drilled an artesian well at this place and found fresh water at a depth of 800 feet below sea level. Several farmers and fishermen have settled on this key and are meeting with great success in growing all kinds of vegetables.

Knight's Key is for the present the temporary terminus of the Florida East Coast Railroad. There has recently been a dock built one mile long for ocean steamers to meet the trains and exchange passengers and freight. Regular steamers from Havana and Key West arrive and depart daily. From this dock to Key West is about a three-hour's sail, and to Havana five to eight hours.

Pigeon Key can only be reached by boat. This key, the area of which is about three acres, is now one of the headquarters of the Key West Extension. Upon this key are built good, substantial buildings used for offices and quarter houses. The extension is working a large force of men both night and day on this road from Knight's Key to Key West and have already quite a number of concrete piers completed between. This part of the road will be steel trestles built on concrete piers. The company contemplates having a train running into Key West by January 1, 1910.

Last, but not least, the climate at this place is certainly delightful. One cannot tell if it is winter or summer in the north and in the five months that I have been here we have not had two hours' rain all told. The only way I can tell the seasons is by reading The Gazette every Tuesday evening, which makes it five days' old before it reaches me. But, nevertheless, I am always very anxious to receive the old Gazette as it is the only newspaper I care to read at this place. Yours respectfully, Walter S. Arnold.

Hopewell

March 17—Times are very quiet in this vicinity at present.

We have one case of scarlet fever but the patient is convalescing. Andrew Weimer disposed of his personal property at public sale at his former home in this place on the 18th.

Hopewell Borough sent in a petition to our representative containing 85 signatures of the qualified electors of our borough in favor of the Fair Local Option bill. This is about two-thirds of the voters.

Our representative, Mr. Oster, we have been informed, was recently seen wending his way homeward from Harrisburg wearing a white carnation. The city dailies have been telling us the emblem of the liquor interests was a red carnation. We would be pleased to have the gentleman explain this sudden change in colors.

The borough lockup was filled to its utmost capacity Saturday night. Its capacity is three cells, allowing one cell for each person. The writer has been informed there were six persons arrested for drunkenness and disorderly conduct on the above date. The sentiment here is decidedly in favor of local option.

In last week's issue of The Gazette the editor suggested the use of his paper to print the names of Oster's petitioners for and against local option and we think this should be done. The people should know who these 60 per cent. are who were against the local option bill and also those who were for it.

A young man by name of Earl Hainley was killed by being struck by a train near Cypher station Monday morning. He was an inmate of the County Home. Part of a bottle of whiskey was found on his person. Another argument in favor of local option.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL.

Lesson XII.—First Quarter, For
March 21, 1909.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, a Comprehensive Quarterly Review—Golden Text, Acts viii, 4—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

[Copyright, 1909, by American Press Association]
LESSON I.—Acts i, 1-14, the ascension of our Lord. Golden Text, Luke xxiv, 51, "It came to pass, while He blessed them, He parted from them and carried up into heaven." During the forty days in which He appeared to the disciples only, at least ten times He spoke of the kingdom of God and commanded them to wait till they should have received the Spirit, that they might by His power go forth and bear witness unto Him in all the world.

LESSON II.—The descent of the Holy Spirit, Acts ii, 1-21. Golden Text, John xiv, 16, 17, "I will pray the Father, and He will give you another comforter, that He may abide with you forever, even the Spirit of Truth." According to the type in Lev. xliii, just fifty days after the resurrection of Christ the new first fruits began to be gathered, the human instrument being Peter, but the power the Holy Spirit, who came as predicted by Joel, but also promised by Jesus Christ Himself.

LESSON III.—The beginnings of the Christian church, Acts ii, 22-47. Golden Text, Acts ii, 42, "They continued steadfastly in the apostles' doctrine and fellowship and in breaking of bread and in prayers." By the Spirit of God, through the word of God, Simon Peter so preached Jesus Christ crucified and risen again as Israel's Messiah, the Son of David, that 3,000 received Him as their Saviour and Lord, put all their possessions into a common fund.

LESSON IV.—The lame man healed,
Acts iii, 1-26. Golden Text, Acts iii, 16,
"His name through faith in His name hath made this man strong, whom ye see and know." The risen and ascended Christ wrought through Peter and John in the healing of the man who had been lame from his birth, and this striking object lesson gave Peter another opportunity to proclaim Jesus Christ crucified and risen again, as the one whom Moses and all the prophets had foretold as the seed of Abraham.

LESSON V.—The trial of Peter and John, Acts iv, 1-31. Golden Text, Acts iv, 31, "They were all filled with the Holy Ghost, and they spake the word of God with boldness." Ever since sin entered the world mankind, as a whole, have been against God and on the side of the devil, and religion, so called, has been more largely on the line of Gaius than of Abel, the god of this world taking the place of the living and true God.

LESSON VI.—True and false brotherhood, Acts iv, 32, to v, 11. Golden Text, Prov. xii, 22, "Lying lips are abomination to the Lord, but they that deal truly are His delight." With one heart and soul the believers lived together in the bonds of a risen Christ, counting nothing as specially their own if only He might be magnified.
But the great deceiver, the father of lies, could not stand such powerful testimony to the truth and got in some of his work to the loss and everlasting disgrace of two names.

LESSON VII.—The apostles imprisoned, Acts v, 17-42. Golden Text, Matt.
v, 10, "Blessed are they which are persecuted for righteousness' sake, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven." Religion imprisoned the faithful followers of Christ and beat them and forbade them to speak the name of Jesus, but the Lord by an angel brought them out of prison and commanded them to speak to the people and strengthened them to testify again before the rulers.

LESSON VIII.—Stephen, the first Christian martyr, Acts vi, 1, to viii, 3.
Golden Text, Acts vii, 59, "They stoned
Stephen, calling upon God and saying, Lord Jesus, receive my spirit." Not apostles only, but men willing to serve tables, become faithful witnesses to this risen, living Christ, and one of them is the first to be honored by laying down his life to seal his testimony.
The religious ruler of this world is not only a liar, but a murderer.

LESSON IX.—The gospel in Samaria,
Acts xiii, 4-17. Golden Text, Acts viii, 6, "The people with one accord gave heed unto those things which Philip spoke, hearing and seeing the miracles which he did." God works in spite of all hindrances and makes even the wrath of men to praise Him. The persecution entered the preachers and gathered more souls to the Lord, some doubtful, but many real believers, and it is one of the humble committee of seven who is used.

LESSON X.—Philip and the Ethiopian,
Acts viii, 26-40. Golden Text, John v, 39, "Search the Scriptures, for in them ye think ye have eternal life, and they are they which testify of Me." Something is wrong in the holy city when a man can go there and to the temple to worship and not learn of Him who is greater than the temple. Some one in heaven cares, even He who told them it was a den of thieves, and by an angel and by His Spirit gave light by Philip to the eunuch.

LESSON XI.—Aeneas and Dorcas, Acts
ix, 31-43. Golden Text, Acts ix, 31,
"And Peter said unto him, Aeneas, Jesus Christ maketh thee whole, arise and make thy bed. And he arose immediately." We are on earth to make it manifest that Jesus Christ, who healed the sick and raised the dead, is still the very same Jesus, giving life to dead souls and causing helpless men and women to walk in newness of life.

BLOOD

We live by our blood, and on it. We thrive or starve, as our blood is rich or poor. There is nothing else to live on or by.When strength is full and spirits high we are being refreshed—bone, muscle and brain, in body and mind—with continual flow of rich blood.
This is health.When weak, in low spirits, no cheer, no spring, when rest is not rest and sleep is not sleep, we are starved; our blood is poor; there is little nutriment in it.Back of the blood is food, to keep the blood rich. When

Overdoing Exercise

It is quite difficult to impress upon women the good of exercise; but it is equally difficult to compel them not to overdo it.Give a woman a pair of dumbbells and tell her to take a gentle exercise for five minutes every morning, and she will swing them with violence several times a day until her arms ache from exhaustion.Tell her to play tennis during pleasant days, and she will play it for hours, at all hours, without moderation or judgment.It is the same with every form of exercise suggested. It seems the nature of women to overdo it through ignorance. They do not know its value enough to comprehend its danger.They think if a little is good more it better.They weary themselves out, deplete their heart action, give themselves acute indigestion, all because they will not do in moderation the thing that would make them well and strong.Doctors and physical culturists say they have to fight this tendency in women more than any other one thing when they are upbuilding their blood and tissues.

WHAT A WOMAN WILL NOT DO

There is nothing a woman would not do to regain her lost beauty. She ought to be fully as zealous in preserving her good looks. The herb drink called Lane's Family Medicine or Lane's Tea is the most efficient aid in preserving a beautiful skin, and will do more than anything else to restore the roses to faded cheeks. At all druggists and dealers, 25c.

pen that the girl in love can see lint

Better Education

"In our judgment the most important single thing to be done for the general betterment of country life is to provide better education.
First, carry good teaching to the homes through the farmers' institute, bulletin, and local papers until our people fully realize that all the advantage does not lie with those in town. Second, adapt our country schools more closely to the needs of the community."As Helpless as a Child—Rheumatism the CauseFinds Almost Immediate Relief in Uric-O, the Remedy Recommended Alone for This One Disease.T. B. Singleton, 919 North Elizabeth St., Lima, O., advises all who suffer with Rheumatism, no matter what form, to commence at once a Uric-O treatment, and find in it a harmless, speedy cure. He writes as follows:"After being stricken down with Rheumatism for four years, in which time I spent $400 with doctors and treatments at Sanitariums, I have found light here in my own town. Through the recommendation of Druggist Vortkamp, I have used two bottles of Uric-O, and can truthfully say that it has done me more good than all the other medicines, baths and doctors combined.I was at times as helpless as a child and could not even dress myself. Since taking Uric-O, I feel as active in my limbs as ever, I am again an able bodied man.Anyone suffering with this terrible disease, should at once procure a bottle of this remedy."Uric-O is sold by druggists at 75c and $1 a bottle. You can obtain a liberal sample by writing to the

ATTRACTIVE TRIFLES.

Millinery Fancies That Will Bloom in the Spring.An interesting piece of millinery news is the revival of the hat with strings passed loosely under the chin.
This style of hat, it is said, will be much in evidence this summer.Some of the new straw hats look like straw beehives. The only trimming consists of a stiff alight held in place by a cabuchon. To be strictly in style these hats must be large, and the way they come down on the head suggests a tea cozy to the irreverent.The spring gown of 1909 differs from that of last season in several respects.
Long lines both back and front are given by a panel which goes to the

A pattern of this princess gown may be had in six sizes—from 32 to 42 inches bust measure. Send 10 cents to this office, giving number (4447), and it will be promptly forwarded to you by mail.In this way a much more satisfactory fit is obtained over the hips and a prettier fullness given the waist than were possible in the gowns formally worn. This is done by a fitted girdle that apparently goes under the princess panel in front. Illustrative of a pretty frock is the one shown in the cut. The skirt is gored and trimmed with buttons covered with the material. Shaped bands of the same finish the short tucked sleeve

Silver Slippers Make the Feet Look Small and Dainty.Silver slippers are a new showing for wear with evening gowns. They are less conspicuous than those of gold, and they have the added advantage of making the feet look smaller.Bowknots of gold ribbon are attached to hairpins and worn at the sides of the Psyche knots. They may be placed, if preferred, above the ears in the coiffures that are flat in front and wide at the sides. The bows may be of silver ribbon or of gold lace studded with fancy stones.

For belts there are endless lovely

Eat What

You want of the food you need Kodol will digest it.You need a sufficient amount of good wholesome food and more than this you need to fully digest it.Else you can't gain strength, nor can you strengthen your stomach if it is weak.You must eat in order to live and maintain strength.You must not diet, because the body requires that you eat a sufficient amount of food regularly.But this food must be digested, and it must be digested thoroughly.When the stomach can't do it, you must take something that will help the stomach.The proper way to do is to eat what you want, and let Kodol digest the food.Nothing else can do this. When the stomach is weak it needs help;
you must help it by giving it rest,
and Kodol will do that.

THE PLAINS' GREATEST HUNT

BY BUFFALO BILL
FROM TRUE TALES OF THE PLAINS

SPEAKING of General Custer reminds me of an international episode resulting from the friendship exhibited by Russia to the government of the United States during the civil war—the courtesies shown to the young Grand Duke Alexis. Among the events arranged in the programme was his visit to the far west to hunt for big game. The whole affair was under the direction of General Phil Sheridan, and Custer, from his youth, distinction and suitability, was particularly selected to chaperon and have charge of the grand duke and at the same time show him the horsemanship and admirable qualities of the American army officer. I had been ordered by General Sheridan to take charge of the matter and have everything in readiness for the grand duke and a large number of noblemen and officers of his staff. I had located a camp sixty miles from North Platte, on the Red Willow, in the heart of the buffalo country. Lieutenant E. M. Hayes, now brigadier general, retired, a dashing soldier, more familiarly known as General Jack Hayes, was assigned the duty of arranging the material and equipping the camp. There was no limit to the efforts to provide every luxury and comfort that lavish expense could procure. Provisions, wines, etc., of the finest had been freighted in from Chicago; tents for the royal guests were beautifully furnished with carpets, rugs, robes and with a stove in each tent. It certainly was a most beautiful camp, named Camp Alexis, and Lieutenant Hayes must have been inspired by some of the oriental tales of kingly camps in days of old and tried to "go it one better." Runners had been sent out and conferences had been held arranging for an assured peace meeting with Spotted Tail and other powerful chiefs to attend and give zest to the sport. I quote from the dispatches of the day to the press (from the New York Herald) relative to the same:

"Some forty odd superior wall tents were properly equipped for the guests alone. The arrangements of the camp, in brief, were complete, not to say luxurious, when the remote and wild section of the country is considered. Besides the cavalry escort, there were two mounted companies to guard safely the imperial tourists and sportsmen from the wrath and revenge of the numerous 'dog soldiers,' Indians under Chief Whistler. The chances are, however, that the reds will unite in rendering the duke's visit one of pleasure rather than one of fear or harm. Sheridan and 'Buffalo Bill' have persuaded them to such a course, and, furthermore, to procure their good behavior the general has brought out thirty wagon loads of provisions, which he has promised to distribute impartially among the red men at the end of the hunt if they restrain themselves from any violence. These presents assure such result. This perhaps may be con-on a spanking charger and, with his long hair and spangled buckskin suit, appeared as the feared and beloved by all for miles around.

"White men and barbarous Indians are alike moved by his presence, none of them daring to do aught in word or deed contrary to his rules of law and civilization. After the dual party had alighted, General Sheridan beckoned the famous scout to approach. He advanced carelessly, yet respectfully. 'Your highness,' said the general, 'this is Mr. Cody, otherwise and universally known as "Buffalo Bill." Bill, this is the grand duke.'

"I am glad to see you," said the hero of the plains. 'You have come out here, so the general tells me, to shoot some buffaloes.'

"Yes," answered Alexis, 'and I hope to have a good, fine time. I heard of you before, and I am glad to meet you here.'

"Thank you, thank you," said Bill, with a smile as honest as that of a maiden. 'If the weather holds good we'll have one of the finest hunts that there ever was on the continent.'

"Buffalo Bill" is the famous western scout employed by Sheridan for Indian service and one who is efficient and reliable. Bill is about thirty years of age, is about six feet in height, and with other proportions he has a pleasing face and fine address and would have been prominent in other walks of life had not circumstances made him famous as a western hunter.

"The tales that are told of 'Buffalo Bill's' hunting experiences since he was old enough to ride a horse—for Bill was born and brought up on the plains—are truly wonderful to hear, related as they are around our blazing campfires and in the presence of all of the paraphernalia of frontier life upon the plains. Bill was dressed in a buckskin suit of trimmed fur and wore a black slouch hat, his long hair hanging in ringlets down his shoulders. "As he dashed from the railroad station he was closely followed by the grand duke in an open Concord wagon drawn by four powerful horses, which carried the distinguished representatives of two powerful nations, escorted by the cavalry, at a fearful rate of speed over the rugged prairie."

Of course there was a glorious time in camp—in fact, "high jinks," as far as the natural military discipline, the dignified and courteous qualities and manners governing both guests and hosts permitted. After a day of rest following the sixty mile ride and a night of social exchanges my scouts and Indian allies reported the presence of a herd of buffaloes. We gave a first run, in which General Custer, myself and many officers gave an exhibition to our guests of the manner and method of hunting buffaloes, showing and explaining the necessity of trained horses used to the job and the method of shooting, either through the loins or under the heart. The grand duke eventually mounted probably the best buffalo hunting horse that ever lived, "Buckskin Joe," and soon adapted himself to the sport. General Custer especially gave a magnificent exhibition of skill, dash and expertness. He and myself accompanied the grand duke, and the latter acquitted himself splendidly. We cut out eventually two or three of the finest horned buffaloes, colossal in size, which he brought down. The magnificent heads I secured, sent them by express to Chicago to the taxidermist and they now ornament the royal castles in St. Petersburg. During the hunt elk, antelope, deer and coyote heads were treated in the same way and sent home as trophies. Photographs were taken of the camp and some of the scenes, and it is to be regretted that photography had not been sufficiently perfected then to get what would be a sensational connection of the men, the horses, the buffaloes and the guns in action. But the grand battue, or roundup, was reserved for the last, which was an Indian hunt for buffaloes. Camp scenes and Indian war dances, powwows and feasts, proved of interest to the royal guests, who expressed delight at all they saw. General Custer gave some practical military drills and evolutions as accompanying exhibits, and in the social education they received practical instructions as well in the game of poker.

But of the Indian roundup of buffaloes I might say that such a picturesque assemblage, such natural conditions, when nature furnished in its primitiveness the striking adjunct of an illimitable hunting ground and innumerable varieties of big game, magnificent savage allies, in all the rainbow brilliancy of their native garb and fantastic adornment, mingled with the flower of the veteran cavalry of Uncle Sam commanded by General Phil Sheridan, General E. O. C. Ord, commander of the department of the Platte, with the gallant Custer, Colonel Mike Sheridan, the Forsythys, Assistant Surgeon M. V. Ash, Major Switzer, Colonel Palmer and Lieutenant Hayes, a brilliant array of famed officers, and the gorgeously accoutered foreign officials, admirals and generals, and a detachment of the flower of our army, made a pageant so spirited as to linger in memory as a scene in every respect unique beyond compare up to date and one well nigh impossible in the future to duplicate. I had located an immense herd of buffaloes, and all arrangements were complete, "the blanket was waved three times," and off the outfit started at daylight. The Indians were painted in a variety of colors, had discarded all their artistic adornments, different colored ornaments, jewelry, feathers and other apparel and looked like real children of nature, almost in Adam's costume; only a breechcloth around their loins, moccasins on their feet, no saddle, no bridle, the ponies with only a thin leather hackamore between their teeth; some with only light bow and arrows, others with their rifle, revolver, ammunition, no unnecessary weight, so that they could ride like lightning. They even spared their horses and walked most of the time, but with such speed that it kept every one "hopping" to go the pace. This took kept up until the herd was in sight.

A council was held, and the calumet was passed around, and everything was ready, while every Indian mounted his horse, which seemed more excited than his rider. About 200 were in the front line, 150 in the second line and 100 composed the rear. The chiefs were in the front, snapping their whips in the air and holding the riders together, with the ponies foaming, prancing and stamping their feet, impatient as their masters, each seeming to form one soul and one body, centaurs, all waiting for the signal, all with one feeling, one desire, to gain as many laurels as possible when the chief suddenly gave the signal to go. Thunder and lightning! What a tornado! What a storm of horsemen as, with impetuosity, these nomads dashed on their prey. With the roar of Niagara, the speed of a cyclone, the swiftness of an avalanche, these strange figures threw themselves in a mad, wild rush on their fleeing victims, and soon in the midst of the dust cloud one could only see an indescribable mixup of flying arrows, accompanied with rifle shots, galloping horses, falling buffaloes and fleet riding Indians on their wild ponies. It was a confusion in one sense and regulated action in another, forming almost a delirium of delight to the huntsmen. Some went flying from one end of the prairie to the other after stragglers, while the main guard formed in such a manner as to make the buffaloes circle. The signal to halt was given, and as the dust cloud rose little by little like a curtain in the theater the horses were seen at a standstill, and the prairie was strewn with the buffaloes that fell. Calm and practical fellows were these Indians. Even the horses began quietly pasturing on the grasses, while the hunters proceeded to pull off the hides and cut out the tongues and favorite pieces of their native cattle and preparing the meat in strips for preservation.

During the progress of the hunt the grand duke expressed a desire to have a test made as to the use of the bow and arrow of the Indians. "Tw. Lance," with a reputation as a buffalo hunting chief, was selected for the purpose. While riding at full speed he shot an arrow from his bow which pierced a buffalo clean through from side to side. The grand duke considered the feat so remarkable that he took the arrow home with him as a memento of the occasion.

The commissary wagons assisted in bringing fresh meat to camp, and great festivities marked the closing of this grand hunt. Guests and hosts had tasted of one of the most glorious feasts that ever true Nimrods attended. Sheridan was delighted, everybody was congratulated, and the picture still lingers in my mind with young General Custer predominating the grand assemblage. He was the life and spirit, one might say, of the occasion, and to me it is said to think of another picture that depends almost alone on imagination and of which "more anon"—that of Custer's last battle.

The fault which humbles us is of more use than a good action which puffs us up with pride.—Dovee.

WHEN THE WIND BLOWS

I love to hear the wind blow, on mornings in the spring;
I think it blows us grass and flowers and birds that like to sing.
I love to hear it blowing, in summer's days of ease;
It sets the ripe wheat curtsying and whispers in the trees;
And tips the tall white lilies that smell as sweet as musk;
But I love the best the wind of fall that blows the leaves at dusk.
The brown leaves dance before it, and rustle as they go;
The red leaves on the maple trees come flying to the show.
I'm glad that winter's coming; I'm sure as I can be
The wind that blows the leaves at dusk blows happy days to me.

When the wind blows, when the wind goes, whirling down the street—
All day long it sings a song that's made for dancing feet.
I have a hundred wishes that no one ever knows,
But many or few, they all come true when the fall wind blows.

Women as Well as Men are Made Miserable by Kidney and Bladder Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh, or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a pamphlet telling all about Swamp-Root, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers who found Swamp-Root to be just the remedy needed. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

With the roar of Niagara the Indians dashed on their prey.

considered a questionable way to secure a foreign guest from scalping or murder in the United States, but when it is known that the Indians are armed and outnumber the soldiers ten to one it will be admitted that Sheridan's 'tickle me and I will tickle you' policy is the only safe one to pursue. From 1,500 to 2,000 Indians are expected."

Ladies, Let a Master Metropolitan Tailor Make Your Spring Suit.

Let us tailor your Spring suit as the best tailors in New York City would tailor it.

Let us give you a suit for Easter that you would not be ashamed to wear even at a swell afternoon social affair given by the exclusive club-women on Fifth Avenue, New York.

It is easy enough to get a suit that looks fairly well—but let us give you a suit tailored with all those exquisite touches and niceties that only a metropolitan tailor can put into clothes, and at less prices than you have been paying for ready-mades.

I have just received the swellest selections of beautiful spring patterns you have ever feasted your eyes upon—hundreds of weaves and colorings representing the greatest cloth looms in the world.

You could walk up Fifth Avenue, New York, and visit every shop on the road, but you wouldn't find a better collection of handsome fabrics than these.

For they are the pick of the woolen world, selected by our lynx-eyed buyers from all the handsomest designs to be worn this season.

It will pay you well to come in and look at samples of these, even if you do decide not to get a suit right away; it will tell you more about the styles and colorings that good dressers will wear this season than you could learn in any other way.

W. C. McCLINTIC, Bedford, Pa.
